

Getting you where you want to be

You are an education leader.

How do you raise student achievement to the levels your community demands and the law requires? How do you close achievement gaps among groups of students? How do you turn around low-performing schools and keep raising achievement year after year?

The America's Choice® School Design can help. Our school improvement program is built on solid research and best practices.

We have extensive experience. We have partnered with more than 650 schools—from New York to Mississippi to Hawaii—serving a wide range of students. Increasingly, states and districts are choosing us as their primary solution for under-achieving schools.

They turn to us because we get results—extensively documented by leading third-party researchers. Reading, writing and mathematics scores go up. Achievement gaps narrow. More students meet state standards—year after year.

Visit our web site. Look at our results. Listen to those we've worked with. Visit our schools.

We'll help you get where you want to be.
